City of Pembroke flags at half-mast in memory of Kamloops residential school victims

To honour the 215 children whose bodies were found at the site of a former residential school in Kamloops, B.C., the City of Pembroke will be lowering its flags across the city today. Today we honour these children along with the many other Indigenous children who never made it home, the survivors, and their families.

Mayor LeMay stated “I am incredibly saddened to hear about this tragedy. We have lowered our flags in Pembroke to remember the lives of the 215 children in Kamloops. We want our Indigenous community to know that Pembroke stands with them during this difficult time.”
